HITLER'S SPEECH CHARACTERISED AS AGGRESSIVE AND PROVOCATIVE

Distortion, If Not Actual Falsification Of Notorious Facts

Fuehrer Holding Hand In Consequence Of Anglo-French Solidarity

London, September 13.
The Yorkshire Post, which represents influential political interests, is most outright in its criticism of Hitler's speech which it describes as a deliberate exaggeration and exacerbation of tension from beginning to end. The paper also characterises the speech as aggressive and provocative, and declares that it was a distortion, if not an actual falsification of notorious facts.

In the latter connection the paper examines the nationality of Czechoslovakians and shows that the Czechoslovaks largely exceed the combined minorities.

The Yorkshire Post declares that the effect of Hitler's argument is that might is right and expresses the opinion that he has only been holding his hand in consequence of Anglo-French solidarity.—(Reuter).

Sudetens Will Act On Plebiscite Hint

Prague, September 13.
Well-informed circles do not doubt that the Sudeten Germans will act on Hitler's hint of a plebiscite and Czechoslovakia will likely be confronted with the question very shortly.
The general feeling is that it will be on October 15, which has been fixed by the Sudeten Germans for the Party Congress at Aussig which will be the next critical day, and if no settlement is reached by then the question of a plebiscite will certainly be raised.—(Reuter).

PRAGUE'S LAST OPPORTUNITY

Berlin, Sept. 13.
The determination of Hitler to "draw conclusions if the oppression of Germans in Czechoslovakia does not cease forthwith and they are not given the right of self-determination" is stressed in all newspapers.

The Allgemeine Zeitung states that Prague is given her last opportunity to do what is necessary.

The Lokalan Zeiger describes Hitler's speech as a peace speech.

The Boersen Zeitung declares that the international machinations of threats will not succeed in taking the initiative out of Hitler's hands.—(Reuter).

ITALY AND GERMANY

Rome, Sept. 13.
The Czech problem can only be solved by a plebiscite as was fore-shadowed in Hitler's speech according to Popolo Diroma, which adds that Italian policy lies in complete adherence to the German claims.—(Reuter).

ANXIOUS MONTH

Geneva, Sept. 13.
A slight feeling of relief is perceptible as Hitler has not spoken an irreparable word and has not given a fatal pledge. It is hoped that a peaceful settlement will be reached though it is realised that the temperature in Europe remains at fever-heat and it is feared that the coming month is fraught with anxiety.—(Reuter).

TWO SUDETENS SHOT DEAD

Czech Killed Near Carlsbad: Serious Incidents Reported

Aussig, September 13.
An extremely serious incident resulting in the death of two Sudeten Germans occurred in the village of Schoenfliesen, near Aussig, yesterday evening.

Shortly after the termination of Chancellor Hitler's speech the Sudeten German inhabitants of Aussig and the surrounding districts gathered for a demonstration at the Ringplatz.

The crowd, which was estimated at about 4,500 vented their feelings by shouting in union slogans which demanded the right of self-determination for the Sudeten Germans or proclaimed that the Sudeten Germans are members of the German nation.

When the demonstrators were returning to their homes in Aussig and the nearby towns and villages, a group of "Sudeten" Germans marching through a street of the village of Schoenfliesen was fired at by the Czechs.

BULLET IN THROAT
A Sudeten German, Helmuth Lang, who had performed special police duty during the demonstration was mortally wounded and another Sudeten German, Rudolf Vacha, who watched the return of the Sudeten Germans from the window of his house was hit by a bullet in the throat.—(Continued on Page 9)

CHINESE RECAPTURE CHISHAN

Tungwan, Sept. 13.
The battered town of Chishan, west of Sinkiang in south Shansi, has been recovered by the Chinese. The Japanese at Sinkiang and Hotsing, west of Chishan, attempted to launch simultaneous drives on Chishan on Sept. 10 but were repelled by the Chinese.—(Central News).

Terrorist Bombs

Shanghai, Sept. 13.
After a period of comparative respite terrorist bombs again reverberated in Shanghai today.
Two bombs were hurled into the house of a Chinese broker in the French Concession seriously injuring the broker. His son received only slight injuries.
It is understood that the broker was suspected of co-operating with the Japanese.—(Reuter).

SEAFORTH MEN SURROUNDED BY JAPANESE

One Detained For Several Hours.

STRONG BRITISH NOTE SENT

Shanghai, Sept. 13.
The British Military authorities today sent a strongly worded note to the Japanese naval authorities regarding the incident yesterday when Private William Mackenzie, of the Seaforth Highlanders, was detained for a considerable time at the headquarters of the Japanese Naval Landing Party in Hongkew, after being taken into custody for allegedly overstepping the boundary line while repairing a bombed wire.

The note said that the British authorities considered the Japanese action "most unfriendly" especially in view of the frequent entry made by Japanese into the British defence area.

Another Seaforth Highlander, Private Thomas Campbell, was with Mackenzie when the incident occurred but broke away from his captors and reported to the senior N.C.O.

Mackenzie was not maltreated and his release was effected after several hours.

It is reported that the British tommyes, after being told by a Japanese interpreter that they were in Japanese territory, were picking up their tools to leave when they were surrounded by Japanese marines with fixed bayonets.—(Reuter).

N.W. FRONTIER CLASH

Simla, Sept. 13.

Scores Of Refugees Killed In Chengchow Bombing

Chengchow, September 13.
Scores of war refugees taking shelter in the Feng Yu Cotton Mills at Chengchow were killed when twelve Japanese planes bombed the city yesterday morning.
More than 100 missiles, light and heavy, were dropped on the city. Five incendiary bombs set fire to a whole row of buildings in the vicinity of Hung Ah Hotel.—(Central News).

Students Tied Together And Burned

JAPANESE HORRORS AT HWAIYANG

Chowkiakow, Honan, Sept. 13.
The Japanese rape of Nanking which infuriated the civilized world last year, was repeated in miniature when the invading army captured Hwaiyang, fifty kilometres from the Anhwei-Honan border, on Sept. 6, according to reports from the town.
More than 400 public functionaries and boys and girls students, according to the reports, were mercilessly tied together and burned to death.

The entire remaining women population of the town, who could not escape when the invaders captured the place, were violated without a single exception. Countless numbers afterwards committed suicide.

All the male children were removed to an unknown destination, while the females were mercilessly massacred in cold blood.—(Central News).

DELIA DUE TOMORROW

The Imperial Airways' liner Delia is expected to arrive at Kai Tak at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

OPERATIONS AGAINST TOWN OF KWANGCHOW WILL START SOON

Shanghai, Sept. 13.
That operations against the town of Kwangchow in Honan were about to start was claimed by the Japanese spokesman at a press conference here today.

A general attack would be made on the city which is a strategically important point because it is astride the Han River and the highways radiating to Loshan and Sinyang in the west, Shihien in the north, and Shuangcheng and Kwangshan in the south.

While one column pushes to the west from Kueihai another amphibious detachment is proceeding to the flooded Hwai River preparing to attack Kwangchow from the north.—(Reuter).

Paris, Sept. 13.
The Marseilles dockers' strike was settled last Monday evening when an agreement was signed by the parties, whereby the dock workers are to receive an increase of wages. The working hours have been revised and the dockers have agreed to work on Sundays and during the night.—(Transocean).

BATTLE IS RAGING ALONG ENTIRE TAPIEH MOUNTAINS

Chinese Entrenched In Hidden Positions In Difficult Terrain

Shangcheng, Honan, September 13.
Fierce fighting along the entire range of the Tapiieh mountains, natural defence of Hankow on the Anhwei-Hupeh-Honan border is raging in increasing ferocity with heavy casualties on both sides.

The Japanese invading army, with the 16th and 13th Divisions as mainstay, are advancing in three columns on the mountain range with Hankow as their final goal. Both the divisions are supported by large numbers of field and mountain guns and mechanised weapons.

Chinese defenders, firmly entrenched in hidden positions among the difficult mountainous terrain, strongly hold their ground against the vigorous offensive of the Japanese. They hotly contested every inch of the ground and are determined to exact the costliest price from the invaders.

Chinese defenders, firmly entrenched in hidden positions among the difficult mountainous terrain, strongly hold their ground against the vigorous offensive of the Japanese. They hotly contested every inch of the ground and are determined to exact the costliest price from the invaders.

Another Japanese column, to the north of Houshan, is driving southward from Yehkiatsi near the Honan border and is checked in the vicinity of Fuchingshan where in a recent battle the Japanese suffered a crushing defeat and lost 2,000 men.
Constituting the crack regiments of the 13th Division, the Japanese column threw their full force against the defenders and forced them to shift their lines after a gallant stand at Fuchingshan. The Chinese are now holding a new line to the west of Fuchingshan.
At the northern extreme of the front, a third Japanese column is making a serious bid to cut the Peking-Hankow railway by a westward drive from Kueihai. This column is now checked to the north of Changshing, east of Fwanchuan. Reported attacks by the invaders have been repelled by the defenders with heavy losses.—(Central News).

Furious Fighting On Both Banks Of The Yangtse River

400 JAPANESE DECIMATED AT SZETOWPINGSHAN

Hankow, September 13.
The fury of attacks and counter-attacks dominates both banks of the Yangtse River without diminution.

On the south bank the grim struggle between the Chinese and Japanese at Hsinking to the west of Singze on the west shore of Poyang Lake continues with extreme violence.

The situation was most critical yesterday morning when the Japanese, allegedly using large quantities of poison gas, succeeded in breaking into the Chinese line. However, the arrival of Chinese reinforcements drove the invaders back.

On the south bank the Chinese continue to exert their efforts to "mop up" the Japanese west and southeast of the city.

Four hundred Japanese at Szeowpingshan, to the west of the city, were decimated by the Chinese in an enveloping attack yesterday.

Reinforced by about 3,000 men, the Japanese at Kueihai in southeastern Honan are attacking Fuchingshan.—(Central News).

MEDICAL WORK IN THE CHINA WAR ZONES

Volunteer Doctors Back After Six Months

Just back from the Chinese war front, Dr. R. B. Gray, Dr. H. C. Tremewan and Dr. Donald Hanky, who have been along with other foreign doctors, doing great work in the succouring of war wounded in Changchow, Loyang and Hankow, were guests at the Rotary Club tiffin yesterday.

Interviewed by a representative of the Daily Press after the tiffin, the doctors were reluctant over their own personal experiences, but had some interesting reminiscences of war work, in general, in the interior.

Dr. Gray and Tremewan, who were sent by the Euro-St. John and New Zealand Society, arrived in Honan at the beginning and end of March respectively. The former was stationed for the first three months in the Italian Catholic Hospital in Loyang. Dr. Tremewan, being then at the American Baptist Hospital.

At the end of May Dr. Gray was transferred to Changchow and Dr. Tremewan to Ichang, to the Church of Scotland Mission Hospital. Dr. Tremewan later went to the interior.

INTERESTING TALK BY DR. LI SHU-FAN AT WEEKLY TIFFIN OF ROTARY CLUB

POLICE OFFICERS AT THE SESSIONS

Conspiracy Allegation

Evidence against Lance-Sergeant
Charles Hossack, Telfer, Lance-
Sergeant Leung Chi, Constable
Mak Kwong-lu and Constable Sun Kui was concluded yesterday, when they appeared before Mr. Justice
R. E. Lindsell, Acting Chief Justice at the Supreme Court yesterday on charges of conspiracy to extort $20 from Lam Kwan and $10 from Shek So, proprietors of mah-jongg schools in Temple Street on May 8, 1938.

Mr. J. Whyatt, Crown Counsel, prosecuted, and accused were represented by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, Jnr., instructed by Mr.
Leo D'Almada, Snr. (for Telfer) and Mr. C. A. S. Russ (for the Chinese accused).

The following were the Jury:—
Messrs. F. A. Howard, (foreman),
C. A. King, Lau Yuk-wan, Lam Ho-kwan, C. G. Markar, F. Lee and Chan Kai-wah.

OFFICER STRUCK HIM
Evidence was given in the afternoon by Lau Ying, unemployed, who stated that he helped his elder brother to sell vegetables sometimes at a stall in the New Market in Yau-mat, Witness said that he frequented the Kai Kee mah jongg school. On May 9 about 3.30 a.m. he was on his way to that school, when a European Police officer who was outside the door of the Tai Loi mah jongg school, rushed towards him and struck him twice on the back of his neck.

Corroborative evidence was next given by Lai Kau, a servant employed at the Kai Kee mah jongg school, who deposed to having attended an identification parade but failed to recognise any of the defendants.

EARLY MORNING VISIT
Giving evidence, Shek So master of the Tai Loi mah jongg school said that his school was managed by Pak Tsang. In the early hours of May 9 he was awakened by Pak Tsang who told him that two men were looking for him. They informed him that they were looking for the master to see if he had settled the matter. They also said

"since you have promised him you had better pay him." Witness then replied that the master was not at home, and invited them to sit down and wait but they de-

POLICE ORDERS

Detective-Inspector A. E. Carey, attached to the Yau-mat Police Station was the next witness. Mr.
Whyatt asked witness to give his opinion with regard to the disobeying of Police orders, and witness said that a European Lance-Sergeant, who was in charge of an Emergency Unit patrol and told to proceed on his rounds to Kowloon City, had no business whatever to be in Yau-mat unless he received a call or heard a Police whistle. He ought not to, in fact, leave his Police district.

If he left without orders, it would be a serious case of breach of discipline. In the early hours of the morning of May 11, continued witness, he was in his office in Yau-mat Police Station, and received a report, which he forwarded to Chief Inspector Smith. In consequence of the report, witness and Inspector Smith proceeded to Temple Street. When they arrived there, Telfer came out from the pavement underneath the verandah of No. 48, which was the Kai Kee mah jongg school. Witness said that the other members of the squad were on the pavement.

ALLEGATIONS DENIED

Continuing, witness said that Inspector Smith spoke to Telfer and informed him that an allegation had been made against him and his squad that they had been trying to collect money from mah jongg schools. Telfer denied those allegations and Inspector Smith then asked Telfer whether any member of the squad had assaulted members of the public. This Telfer also denied, but explained that he had only pushed somebody.
Telfer was then ordered to take his squad to Yau-mat Police Station. Telfer was charged on June 15.

In reply to cross-examination by Mr. D'Almada, witness said that mah jongg schools were quite common and popular in Hong Kong.
A record of all such schools was kept by the Police in case of emergencies.

The case will be continued at 10 a.m. today.

ters at the Central Court yesterday for driving without due care and caution in Park Road on September 2.

Sub-Inspector J. H. E. Edwards said that defendant drove at quite a high speed and was on the wrong side of the road. A fine of $20 was imposed.

Summoned for dangerous driving, Wong Yat, lorry driver, was fined $25.

Sergeant Davies said that on September 1 defendant drove past him at a fast speed on the wrong side of Stubbs Road.

PEDESTRIANS HURT

A fine of $20 was imposed on Tong Chung, taxi driver, when he was summoned for driving without due care and caution in Upper Albert Road on August 21.

Sergeant G. Youe stated that defendant went round a bend near the St. Paul's College Hostel and drove onto the pavement where he collided into a tree. Five persons, including three pedestrians were slightly injured.

IMPRESSIONS OF RECENT VISIT TO INDO-CHINA

Thrilling Experience In Big Game Hunting

Introducing himself as a stop-gap speaker, Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan gave his impressions of a recent visit to Indo-China at the weekly tiffin of the Hong Kong Rotary Club at the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday, and was accorded a warm reception.

In the course of his talk Dr. Li revealed that on his trip he had spent eight days up-country hunting big-game and had managed to bag an elephant weighting some 3,000 pounds.

The Vice-President of the Club, Mr. L. C. F. Bellamy, in thanking Dr. Li for his enjoyable and instructive discourse, congratulated him on his feat.

Visiting Rotarians welcomed were Messrs. Lee Fong and Yau Tsang (Canton), Dr. K. S. Inui and Mr.
Wm. Yinson Lee (Shanghai), Mr.
Ginai Lao (Hangchow), Mr. Yen
Te-ching (Nanking and Peiping),
Mr. J. M. Hansen (Nanyang).

Visitors were His Honour the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice
R. E. Lindsell, Dr. Donald Hankey and Dr. R. B. Gray, of Changchow, Dr. H. C. Tremewan, of Hankow, Messrs. H. C. Macnamara, Li Shul-
fong, K. Suhr, Walter Henning
Chen, G. K. Verra, U Sze-wing, H.
H. Beddow, and Dr. Tsang Hin-lu, of Hong Kong.

Dr. Sommer and Professor W.
Brown were also welcomed.
Dr. Li's address, which was illustrated by a map and photos, was, inter alia, as follows:—

Towards the latter part of July,
I left Hong Kong by air via Kunming the capital of Yunnan Province. The plane in which I travelled was a Junker plane belonging to the Eurasia Aviation Corporation. It is a triple propeller land plane, with thirteen passenger seats; ten in the saloon and three in the smoking room.

A unique innovation is the provision of an air tube beside each passenger seat, which one may use whenever hot or there is threat of air-hunger.

One of the most delightful sights in Yunnan is the endless chain of pinkish hills, thickly covered with green vegetation. Owing to this peculiar colour of the soil, many of the rivers were of an orange-red colour. This probably accounted for the existence of the Red River in Indo-China, which presumably has taken its source from this part of the world.

KUNMING REACHED

Kunming was reached amidst rain after a journey of six and a half hours. The city is situated on a plateau, 5,800 feet above sea level, on the edge of a lake. We found the Yunnanese were already wearing what we in Hong Kong consider winter clothing.
No photography was permitted in the aerodrome. The Yunnanese soldiers appeared very neat, they and the police both wore smart steel helmets of the French pattern.

We left Kunming at 3.30 p.m., heading southwards for Hanoi, which was reached at 7 p.m. The northern part of Indo-China is extremely mountainous and thickly covered with jungles. Towards the Hanoi side, the country is flat, consisted mainly of rice-fields.
Hanoi is the capital of Indo-China, and is situated on the border of two beautiful lakes.

The streets were clean and wide, planted with numerous attractive trees, characteristic of French boulevards. Public gardens were generously provided, and in one of the gardens, we found the Municipal Band playing in full swing.
The natives were clean looking and appeared contented. Some of the most attractive buildings were found on the skirts on the lakes.

Hankow, September 13.
Chinese guerrillas launched a surprise attack on to a Tientsin message.

However, they withdrew in the afternoon upon the arrival of heavy Japanese reinforcements from Yenchow, a station southwest. They killed some 20

The policy regarding the study of foreign languages has been recently under review and a considerable increase in the number of officers required for language duty has been approved.

SOUVENIRS OF THE WAR

KING GEORGE V'S STEEL HELMET

Although it is 20 years after the War, visitors are still attending the Imperial War Museum in large numbers. During the first 12 months in the new building, when ended on July 6, 1937, the total was 360,833.

This had increased by March 31 this year to 574,215, and for the portion of the period covered by the twentieth annual report, issued recently (Stationery Office, price 1s. 6d.) the figure was 294,301.

Many new exhibits have been placed in the various galleries during the year. These include the steel helmet worn by King George V on Wytschaete Ridge on July 1, 1917; souvenirs picked up by the King at Vimy Ridge, Thiepval, and the Butte de Warlencourt during the same visit to France; and the King's copy of his message sent to the troops of the Expeditionary Force on August 12, 1914.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

MOVEMENT OF FIVE SQUADRONS

Five squadrons of the R.A.F. moved on September 2. The R.A.F. Station at Leuchars, Fife, from which No. 1 Flying Training School recently moved to Netheravon, received Nos. 233 and 224 (General Reconnaissance) Squadrons from the station at Thornaby, and transferred from the Training to the Coastal Command.

COMMAND AT HUCKNALL

In the place of Wing Commander S. B. Harris, recently posted to the Air Ministry, Wing Commander J. L. M. Hughes-Chamberlain has been appointed in command of the R.A.F. station at Hucknall.

NEW RECONNAISSANCE GROUP

A new Reconnaissance Group—No. 18—will begin to form at Lecon-Solent in the Coastal Command. On November 1 next it will move to the R.A.F. station at Donibristle, and on the same day No. 16 (Reconnaissance) Group will move from Lecon-Solent to Osham.

SQUADRON LEADER LISSETT'S APPOINTMENT

Squadron Leader J. W. Lissett, who has been in command of No. 207 (Bomber) Squadron since March, 1936, first at Bircham Newton, then at Worthy Down, and finally, since April last, at Cottesmore, has been appointed to the Headquarters of the Training Command for armament duties.

Another armament specialist, Squadron Leader J. W. Homer, has been appointed to the headquarters staff of No. 11 (Fighter) Group at Uxbridge.

LEAVE FOR INVALIDED AIRMEN

A recent Air Ministry Order provides that as from June 22 last an airman invalided from the Service will have the effective date of his discharge deferred for 28 days, during which period he will be regarded as on leave and subject in all respects to the regulations for a serving airman.

Lord Londonderry and Commissioners of the Civil Air Guard.

30,000 VOLUNTEER FOR ENLISTMENT IN NEW CIVIL AIR GUARD

Training To Start October 1: Are There Enough Planes?

In a blaze of enthusiasm, some 30,000 civilians, ranging from business directors to kitchen-maids, have volunteered for enlistment in Britain's Civil Air Guard. Daily, private flying clubs all over the country pour in lists of people who want to become air guards.

As the forms mounted up and up at headquarters recently, dynamic Air Minister, Sir Kingsley Wood's five Commissioners grew more and more concerned. In tactfully-worded, but nevertheless urgent notes, club secretaries were asking how they proposed to instruct the volunteers and where were they to find enough planes to start training by the scheduled starting day—October 1.

Faced with a serious lack of flying instructors and machines and all the material for another air muddle story, the Commissioners' feelings were not improved by a crisp comment in the London Evening Standard. "The people who undertook this matter fell into the elementary error of announcing their plans before their preparations were complete."

Most perturbed was the Air Guard's ready Chief Commissioner, Lord Londonderry. Ever since blunt Earl Baldwin dropped him from the Air Ministry, the wealthy marquis has awaited his chance. When Premier Neville Chamberlain dropped Air Minister Lord Swinton, disappointed Lord Londonderry saw his old post go to the cherubic Sir Kingsley; great, therefore, was his enthusiasm when the Government adopted the Civil Air Guard idea to provide a reserve military force in time of war, and asked him to head the board of five honorary Commissioners elected to administer the scheme.

Recently the Air Ministry temporised by issuing instructions that new private clubs, which have sprung up to cater for the Guard need not confine themselves to British-made planes.

INSURANCE

Announced were details of insurance facilities for C.A.G. members. The scheme, issued by Messrs. Jones and Partners and underwritten by Lloyd's, is divided into two parts: the first to cover death, loss of sight and loss of limbs, the second for temporary disablement up to a period of six months.

Members insuring under the first heading will have to pay a premium of 10s. a year for each £100 unit of insurance and may not insure for more than £1,000. The benefits will be £100 on death or on the total loss of sight or of both limbs; and £50 on the loss of an eye or a limb.

Under the second heading, members will pay an annual premium of 15s. per unit of £100 and will then be entitled to £3 a week for 26 weeks during temporary disablement and a sum up to £25 for doctor's fees.

The insurance, which will be issued in blocks to the private clubs, will operate in respect of all classes of aircraft used by the pupils, but will not extend beyond the amount of flying necessary to qualify for a A licence and the subsequent annual minimum of 10 hours' solo flying.

 FLIP Handsomeness Under-Secretary for Air Captain Harold E. Balfour (40), a dashing R.A.F. pilot in the Great War, flew down to Duxford R.A.F. station in Cambridgeshire, climbed into the cockpit of one of the Government's crack Supermarine Spitfire single-seater fighters, and took off in masterly style.

MARCH OF TIME

NAZI CONQUEST

The management of the Queen's Theatre are to be congratulated on securing the "March of Time" film, "Nazi Conquest," a Radio-RKO production, for release in the Colony at a time when all eyes are turned to the developments in Europe in general, and the activities of Adolf Hitler, corporal in the German Army during the World War but now dictator of the Third Reich, in particular.

The film shows us the events leading up to the occupation of Austria which the commentator states was the "climax to a fourteen-year-old plan," after which it shows a Nazi official broadcasting to the Austrian people, following what must have been a night of terror to them, that "all laws of the Third Reich are effective immediately."

There can be no doubt about Hitler's ambitions and the concluding stages of the film show it in no uncertain manner.

A spokesman, presumably of the Third Reich, said that "only those who are strong enough to hold their frontiers are entitled to have them," and then goes on to say that Europe was not large enough for two first class Powers, adding that Hitler's next goal was Soviet Russia.

Since the film was made, however, there appears to have been a change in the plans of the Fuehrer, as witness Czechoslovakia, and not Soviet-Russia.

RACING STORY

Thrills of a great race, inner machinations of race track crooks and the intrigue of the betting ring, provide a thunderous background for the heart-grIPPING story of "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry," which opens today at the King's Theatre.

The new picture introduces Ronald Sinclair, Hollywood's newly-discovered English boy actor, in his first important role. A clever actor, distinctive in his appeal, he is teamed with singing Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney, who plays a young jockey.

Terry Kilburn, after his success in "The Boy from Barnado's," is playing Jeanette MacDonald's young brother in "Sweethearts."

Black And White Scenes In Sweethearts Scrapped

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy were honoured recently by becoming M-G-M's first technicolour stars.

M-G-M, who have produced short coloured films before, planned to make North-West Passage their first full-length "winter."

After a couple of days shooting on the MacDonald-Eddy opus, Sweethearts, they decided that it would look much better in colour, scrapped the black and white scenes already taken, and started all over again.

Director W. S. Van Dyke and producer Hunt Stromberg, are responsible for both films.

It is after Sweethearts that Jeanette goes into In Old New Orleans, a pre-civil war story of the South—again with Mr. Eddy as singing co-star.

NEW TEAM

Joan Blondell and Claude Rains is a team that has not been seen before. The combination of blonde vigour and sombre intensity ought to produce plenty of sparks.

They'll be together in Blondie
White, adaptation of a play that ran for a time in London.
Work starts as soon as Joan gets back to the studio after having her recent baby. It may also be her last film for Warners.

Her contract expires with this picture. Hollywood rumour says she may prefer to sign up with another company.

35,000,000 DESTITUTE IN CHINA

Famine, Flood, And Plague

A vivid picture of the destitution in China was drawn recently by Mr. Harry T. Silcock, who recently undertook a tour of that country and of Japan for the Society of Friends and the Universities
China Committee, says The Times.

He told an audience at Friends House, Euston Road, that in the occupied territory of China about 35,000,000 of the 200,000,000 souls were destitute; that there was famine and flood, plague, cholera, dysentery, typhoid, and malaria.

Much more money than was spent on relief work

CLARK GABLE AS NEWSREEL CAMERAMAN

In M-G-M's Too Hot To Handle Clark Gable plays the part of an ace newsreel cameraman. He gets the Sino-Japanese War as his territory and Myrna Loy as his romantic interest.

It looks as though this film is setting out to do for the newsreel men what Test Pilot did for the men who gave that picture its title.

It will show them at work under all sorts of hazardous conditions; and will pay a vivid and sometimes thrilling tribute to the "risking life with a grin" and "all in the day's work" spirit that is generally held to be the newsreel man's attitude towards his job.

The background of the war in China gives the film a strong topical note, but M-G-M will naturally avoid anything which might be construed as taking sides or comment.

Among the quite imposing supporting cast are Walter Pidgeon, who is being given bigger and well-deserved, chances these days, Walter Connolly, Leo Carrillo and little Virginia Deldier. Jack Conway is directing.

In Belgium in the Great War would be needed in the Far East.

Referring to atrocities, he said that the first Japanese they met in the Far East told them spontaneously that he and great numbers of his fellow countrymen were bitterly ashamed of the behaviour of Japanese troops.

They had all read of the behaviour of Japanese troops in Nanking, and from inquiries he had made he believed those accounts to be accurate.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA HINT CONVEYED BY HITLER

VIOLENT TIRADE AGAINST PRAGUE

Democracies Also Attacked In Nuremberg Speech

Altering that the Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia had been unjustly treated by the Czech Government, Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, in his eagerly awaited speech at Nuremberg on Monday night, declared that he would not tolerate a continuance of such conditions in that country but asserted that the Sudetens had the right to self-determination, a statement which is generally interpreted to mean that he is encouraging the Sudetens to demand a plebiscite.

Nuremberg, Sept. 13. Referring to the Czech-Sudeten dispute in his speech here last night, Herr Hitler said:—

CZECH CONSTITUTION

The Constitution of Czechoslovakia does not serve the people, but the political ends of the oppressors, which in turn demanded a dominant position of power in the state for the Czechs. Whosoever opposes this attitude, is, according to democratic conception, an enemy of the state, and thus an outlaw.

The conditions in this state are unbelievable. From the political point of view, seven million persons have been deprived of the right of self-determination, and from the economic point of view they have been slowly ruined. The democratic representatives may regard this development with indifference or perhaps even with sympathy, since it concerns only those three and a half million Germans.

But I can tell these representatives that it is to us not a matter of indifference and that if these tortured creatures are unable to receive justice and assistance through their own efforts, they will receive both from us!

GERMAN INTERESTS

We understand it when England and France support their interests, and I should like to assure the statesmen in Paris and London that there are also German interests which we are determined to support under all circumstances.

During the present year, Czechoslovakia planned, after repeated postponements, to hold at least local elections, since Prague realised the impossibility of further procrastination in this matter. But, fearing unity of the Germans and the other nationalities, it was deemed necessary to resort to special methods in order, through pressure, to influence the election results.

Dr. Benes mobilised his troops under the pretence that Germany had mobilised the army, and was on the point of invading the country. No word of this statement is true. Several declarations to this effect were issued from Germany and the Prague Government was also informed, but that Government needed this deception as an excuse for its election chicanery.

NO STEPS TAKEN

Germany possessed no such ambitions and, on the contrary, was convinced that the local elections would confirm the rights of the Sudeten Germans. The Reich Government took no step whatsoever, and this was then taken as a retreat under threat of serious intervention by France and England.

A big power cannot afford to tolerate an infamous assault of this kind a second time. I have therefore taken care to draw the necessary consequences.

I am a National Socialist and as such am accustomed to hitting back. Nevertheless, Germany is peace-loving. Taking into consideration the Czech attitude I decided upon very grave measures.

FORCES STRENGTHENED

Firstly, at my command, measures for strengthening the army and air force were immediately carried out and extended to an extraordinary degree. Secondly, I ordered the immediate construction of fortifications in the west.

I am able to assure you that the most gigantic system of fortifications of all times is in progress of erection in that quarter. And behind it stands the entire German people in arms.

I have made this tremendous effort all the time in the interests of peace. But under no circumstances am I prepared to continue calmly looking on to any further suppression of German compatriots in Czechoslovakia.

It is here not a question of empty phrases, but of the right of the Germans, a question of self-determination possessed by every other people. Dr. Benes is not asked to present a gift to these Germans. They have a right to demand individual life just as any other people.

PLEBISCITE HINT

I believe that I am serving peace by leaving no doubt regarding this situation. I have not demanded that Germany should have the right to suppress three and a half million Frenchmen or Englishmen but I do demand that the persecution of three and a half million Germans in Czechoslovakia cease and that the right of self-determination be instituted.

My interest and the interest of all of us is to see that justice in this case does not become injustice. This is a question of Germans; and I do not intend to permit a second Palestine to develop. The Arabs are defenceless, but the Germans in Czechoslovakia are neither defenceless nor forsaken. (Transocean).

FACING UNITED FRONT

Nuremberg, Sept. 13. "Today we are faced with a united front from Bolsheviks to democrats," declared Herr Hitler in the course of his speech. "International world democrats are working hand in hand with Moscow. This insincerity is simply disgusting."

"There are only two nations whose governments are backed by 99 percent of their peoples elsewhere the democrats are fooling the public by financial and other means."

"At the same time they have no hesitation in bringing the natives to reason with bombs. They stand for equality but refuse to let the people the most primitive rights."

"We could not go back our colonies because the natives could not be asked. Without asking the opinion of the natives they subjugated the continents, and they expect Germany, where 140

BRITISH LEGION READY

London, Sept. 13. In the event of a national emergency the resources of the British Legion would be placed at the disposal of the Government, according to an intimation conveyed in a letter to the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, from Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice, National President of the Legion. (British Wireless).

persons are squeezed into every square kilometre, to keep her Jews whereas the Powers with only a few persons to the square kilometre do not want them."

ELABORATE CEREMONIAL

Herr Hitler's speech, which brought the Nazi Party Rally to a close, was preceded by an elaborate ceremonial. Uniformed organisations bearing flags marched past the Congress hall before the Fuehrer opened his address at 7.15 p.m.

In the course of the speech, Herr Hitler also reviewed the Nazi Party's history since 1923. (Reuter).

BENES LISTENS IN

Prague, Sept. 13. President Benes listened to Herr Hitler's speech over the radio and later presided at an extra-ordinary meeting of the Cabinet ministers.

The meeting lasted barely a half hour and it is officially stated that no decisions were taken. (Reuter).

BELGIAN CABINET

Brussels, Sept. 13. The Cabinet sat for seven hours listening to the radio broadcast of Herr Hitler's speech. Eventually the Cabinet approved a statement by the Minister of National Defence that he has taken all measures necessary for security. (Reuter).

BERLIN RELIEF

Berlin, Sept. 13. There is no official reaction to Herr Hitler's speech obtainable here as yet, but there is a general relief in diplomatic circles that the speech, though couched in vigorous language, contained no threat of direct measures.

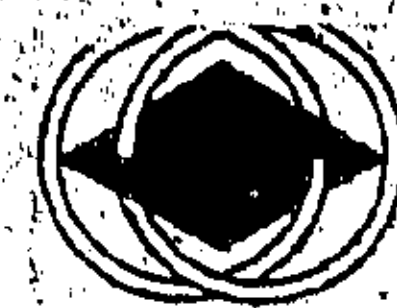

It is pointed out that the seriousness of the Czech problem remains and it will be the task of Lord Runciman and the two disputing parties to compose a settlement. (Reuter).

LEAGUE REACTION

Geneva, Sept. 13. League circles consider that Herr Hitler's speech was neither helpful nor constructive.

His uncompromising attitude on Czechoslovakia and his reiteration of his intention to assist the Sudetens made a bad impression.

It is considered that the speech will prolong the atmosphere of uncertainty and doubt. (Reuter).

Tweed Jackets
For Evening

Buyers at the Paris autumn openings have been held spell-bound by the daring and ingenious use made of tweed in some of the new season's evening ensembles! Indeed, not only tweed but fur has been called into use by several of the leading designers. Here are a few of the startling ideas from the collections:—

TWEED

Vividly coloured tweed jackets embroidered with sequins, to wear with black evening dresses (Molyneux). Apple-green tweed jackets sewn with gold and silver as partners to dark viola-blue dresses; and ruby-red tweed wraps with black frocks. Full-length evening coats of woollen duvetyn to slip over silk dresses.

FUR

A black evening skirt mounted on bodice of leopard skin with single slanted shoulder strap—quite in the Ancient Briton tradition! Leopard skin and black astrakhan coats lined with brilliantly coloured velvets. For example, rich Guardsman red velvet suggested as the lining for a three-quarter leopard swagger coat to accompany a black frock.

SCOTTISH

Three-yard-long scarves of real plaid woolen to decorate crepe evening gowns. Scarf of blue, white and apple-green plaid to match the swathed woollen waist-band on a blue-silk dress sewn with sequins. Lanvin models are named Scotland, England, Ireland, and Great Britain. Scotland—a plaid dress; England—a grass-green frock of pleated chiffon with broad band of marabout on skirt. The royal visit influence again!

CRINOLINES

Some crinoline frocks actually held out on half-inch wide hoops of whalebone. Molyneux's models spring out from moulded hip-line, while other houses show pannier-type skirts. Manon Lescaut frock of black velvet with three-quarter-length velvet jacket fitted over hoops of crinoline skirt. Two-tier crinoline designed in pink taffeta. All these caused mannequins considerable difficulty in getting through doorways!

VICTORIAN

Chanel frocks with no shoulder straps at all—corset-makers called in to fit moulded bodices. Other designers offer dresses with off-the-shoulder Victorian décolletage edged with frills on arms falling as low as arm-pits. Long mittens and gloves fitting up arms to far above elbows, and finishing with frills and ruffles.

COIFFURE

Hair plays an important role in every evening ensemble. Sequin ornaments are scattered over heads. Locks are pulled forward and fastened with huge gold Japanese combs. Vogue for 1830 curls falling down on to shoulder at one side. Feathers are tucked into high-piled coiffures. Sequin and fur hoods are fitted to evening cloaks for those who forego head-dresses.

Newsettes

Mr. E. Mitchell, of Messrs. Sims Darby & Co. Ltd., Ipoh, will be proceeding to Penang on transfer shortly. Mr. S. J. Rees, who was formerly attached to the Ipoh Branch, will be taking over from Mr. Mitchell.

The wedding took place at the Portuguese Mission, Singapore, recently of Mr. John D'Souza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew D'Souza of Singapore, and Miss Edith De Souza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William De Souza, also of Singapore.

The marriage of Mr. Harry Graham Moulding, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moulding of Exeter, and Miss Rachel Mary Heal, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Heal of Rosemont Alphonso, Exeter, has been arranged to take place shortly.

Mr. A. Grad, of the Royal Naval Dockyard, who has keenly identified himself with the activities of the Hong Kong Boy Scouts Association, is leaving the Colony towards the end of October.

WOMAN SENSE

In the show "Marco Polo," is a scene in which the hero advises the Emperor Kublai Khan to choose as ladies of his court those who are both honest and reasonable enough to say "I don't know" to a question he has asked them. Kublai Khan is pleased with the Italian's wisdom in selecting women who neither bluff nor know too much.

In actual life, however, a person is often hard put to it not to pull off bluffs occasionally. It sometimes won't do for a teacher, for instance, to be "both honest and reasonable" and confess bluntly that he does not know, when inquisitive and mentally alert students ask questions. The wise teacher can put them off tactfully, and when the danger-period is over, look up the answers to the bothersome questions so that he will be ready when they come up again. A good teacher, however, is generally so sure of his students' confidence that he does not "lose face" at all, even if he admits ignorance and promises to solve with them the difficulties that confront them. They realize that even if he "knows his stuff," so well he cannot know everything, and respect him more because he trusts them enough to confide to them that "I really do not know."

A little child expects his parents to know the answer to every why and how and what that worries

There are many in Hong Kong who have happy recollections of "Lady Precious Stream" when following its success at the Little Theatre, London, it was produced at the Hong Kong University a year or two ago.

A prominent London critic said of "Lady Precious Stream" "Mr. Hsiung (who translated and arranged the piece) assures us that it is merely a popular commercial drama, leaving us to wonder to what heights of excellence classical Chinese drama climbs."

Mr. Hsiung has chosen to answer the challenge and has prepared a translation of "The Romance of the Western Chamber."

In China this is regarded as the leading play, in spite of the fact that more conservative play-goers regard as an impropriety, the intimate scene describing in fragrant terms, the meeting of the lovers.

Yet it ran into thousands of editions, and no classical scholar has neglected the beauty of its language.

G. B. S. SAYS . . .

George Bernard Shaw, who has read the manuscript, writes "I liked 'The Western Chamber' very much; far better than 'Precious Stream' which is a commonplace melodrama, whereas 'The Western Chamber' is a delightful dramatic poem, like our very best medieval plays."

It is an open secret that Mr. H. L. Hsiung hoped to present "The Romance of the Western Chamber" to London audiences next season, but has willingly given permission for his work first to be presented in Hong Kong, so that not only may an English-speaking audience enjoy the beauty of its poetry and romance, but also that through it, funds may be raised for relief work in China.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Li Shu Pui (of the Hong Kong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association) a group of enthusiasts is now busily engaged in rehearsals, and it is hoped to produce the play at the Queen's Theatre in October next.

The production has, in matters of diction, the assistance of the Rev. Cyril Brown.

NOVEL CIGARETTE
FILTER HOLDER

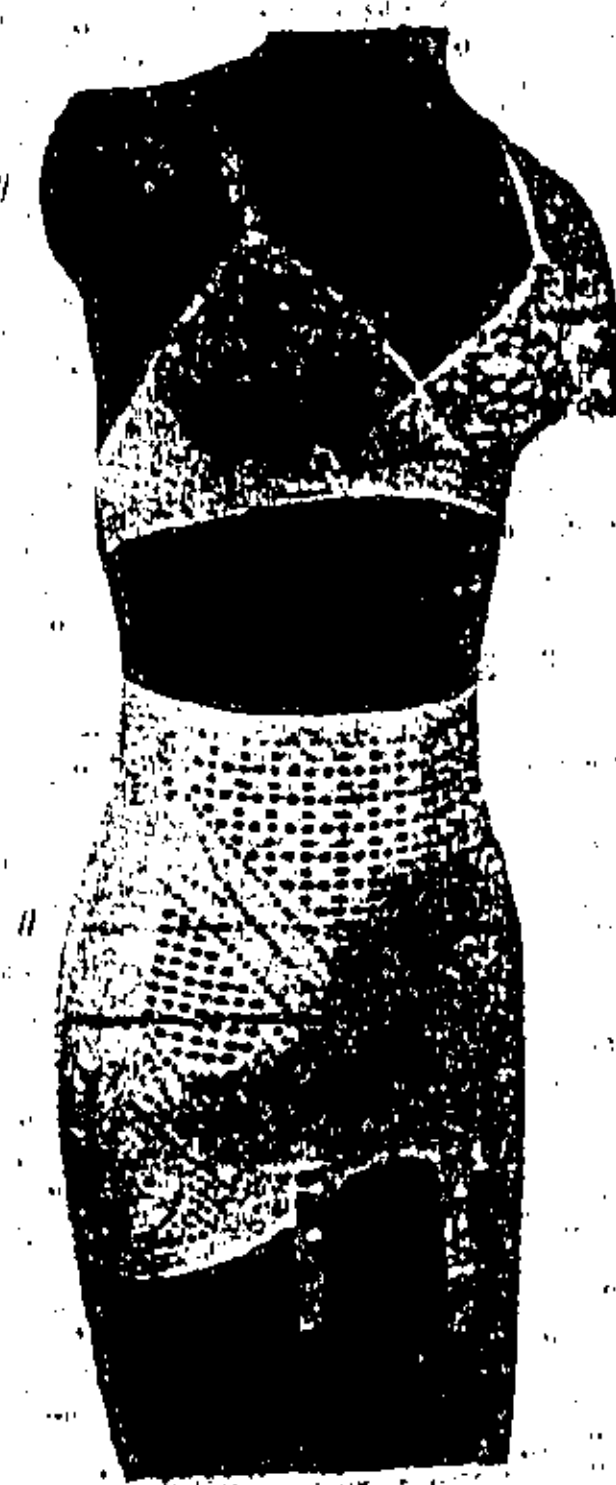

Cigarette-holders seem to be used more at present than was at one time the case. They have, in fact, become a smart accessory in the collection of useful gadgets, that people like to carry about with them.

An interesting addition is a new form of filter holder said to be selling in hundreds of thousands in the U.S.A., the land of its origin. The point about it is that three-quarters or more of the nicotine in the cigarette actually smoked is trapped so that it can do no harm in the cigarette which is placed in the barrel of the holder.

This ingenious contrivance, which can be had in a variety of sizes (taking either one or two cigarettes as filters), is to be seen at the large London stores. The tandem styles which take two filter cigarettes are twice the length of the one filter model.

ALL EYES ON EUROPE

THE SITUATION in Europe, according to the cables yesterday, appears a little less tense. Herr Hitler has had his say at Nuremberg and certainly a bombastic and threatening speech it was. Field Marshal Goering, the day before, also expressed himself in a similar tone, and now he is reported seriously ill.

In a leading article a few days ago, we traced the history of the Czechoslovak problem in detail and there is no doubt that at the time the Versailles Treaty was signed, the strong injustices of the responsibility of the war was still acutely felt by the allies and harsh terms were imposed.

Many present day statesmen and politicians recognise this fact and, in consequence, are desirous of rectifying the inequalities. The British part, are unanimous in this matter and have shown every goodwill even to the extent of sending Lord Runciman to Prague to try and help find a solution of the problem.

IT IS GENERALLY recognised that certain hardships have been imposed, in the past, on the Sudeten Germans, but the Czech Government has come forward with proposals and concessions which should at least form a basis of negotiation.

It is ridiculous to suppose that an Utopian solution for the Sudeten Germans is possible to be found any more than a similar solution in Palestine. In matters so contentious and involved, the opinion seems to be that immediate war in Europe, will be averted, at the same time a permanent settlement must eventually be obtained and some solution to this goose-stepping all over Europe found.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister, backed by all the Dominions, has made it quite clear that if France is involved Britain stands by her ally.

Mobilisations and semi-mobilisations have been, and are taking place all over Europe. This does not necessarily mean war, as with modern aircraft and mechanised units movements can be made so swiftly that careful precautions have to be taken in advance, as formal declarations of war, if the examples of Abyssinia, Spain and Japan are followed, appear to be out of date.

It is significant to read Herr Hitler's tirade at Nuremberg and then compare it with the simple, firm words of the British Prime Minister, and it is on the latter's warning that we base our sincere hope that war will be averted.

Legislative CouncilMEETING TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The Legislative Council will meet tomorrow at 2.30 p.m. after which the Finance Committee will also meet to consider supplementary expenditure.

The Colonial Secretary will move the adoption of the Report of the Finance Committee (No. 7) dated September 1, 1938.

The Attorney General will move the first reading of a Bill to amend the Stamp Ordinance, 1921.

The object of the amendment is to make it clear that in all cases where from the inadequacy of the consideration or otherwise a substantial benefit is conferred on the person taking under an instrument of conveyance or transfer, the proper course is to submit the instrument for adjudication.

SUPPLEMENTARY VOTES
Supplementary votes to the extent of $119,267 are before the Finance Committee. Among the more important items are:

A sum of $55,426 for the Hong Kong and Kowloon Magistracies in respect of increase of personal emoluments caused by changes in personnel and payment of salaries for additional magistrates.

A sum of $10,000 to the Po Leung Kuk. In normal years, the present income of the home of about $20,000 would be sufficient to meet expenditure, but since the outbreak of hostilities the average number of girls and children accommodated in the institution has almost trebled. Expenditure this year is expected to reach $40,000.

ALLEGED THEFT
OF 1,000 YEN
BY A TRICKForged H.K. Notes
Given In Exchange

An Siu-hong, 23, unemployed, appeared before Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged with the theft of 1,000 yen by a trick from Lim King-wai, and fraudulent conversion.

Mr. Hin-shing Lo conducted the prosecution, while Mr. Alfred S. K. Lau pleaded not guilty for the defendant.

Lim King-wai, in evidence, told the Court that defendant came to his firm, the Gana Company, to buy 1,000 yen at the rate of $645 Hong Kong currency, on August 23. Defendant informed him that the yen had been purchased on behalf of an accountant of the Central Trading Company. Together with defendant he took the notes to the company to deliver them to the accountant.

When they arrived there defendant told him (witness) that the accountant, Leung, was out having tea in the On Lok Yuen Cafe. They then proceeded to the cafe and located Leung to whom the notes were handed over. Leung left the cafe leaving defendant behind to pay over the Hong Kong money to him.

Witness said that when he received the Hong Kong bank notes he found them to be forgeries and his suspicion was aroused. He then took defendant into custody, a local and defendant then went to the Central Trading Company to locate Leung, but he was out again. Later they were turned out from the office. His brother then went to see a solicitor in connection with the alleged fraud.

Another man, Chan Suet-chau, who was jointly charged with Au, was discharged.

After further evidence the hearing was adjourned this afternoon.

CLAIMANTS AWAITED

Two Polar ladies' wrist watches, oblong in shape, and a pair of gold earrings—Spanish fashion—are awaiting claimants at the Central Police Station.

The articles were found in possession of a Chinese man who was arrested by the police on Monday. It is believed that the goods are the property of some person or persons, passengers of the steamer "Sai On."

Firm words of the British Prime Minister, and it is on the latter's warning that we base our sincere hope that war will be averted.

COMMENTS FROM THE CHINESE
PRESSWAR SITUATION
AND TIENTSIN

In attacking Wuhan the Japanese are now taking three routes, one from the north of the Yangtze River, one from the south and the other from the Ping-Han Railway.

At the south of the River, Chinese troops have repeatedly gained the upper hand along Nanzin and the Juchang west front. At the north of the River, after the recapture of Kwangsi, conditions have decidedly changed in favour of the Chinese. At present it seems only the fierce Japanese advance on the Ping-Han line that should be seriously taken.

The coming big battle, as was reported by Reuters must be at the northern side of the River, and will be closely followed.—(Takung-pao).

INVASION OF TIENTSIN
SETTLEMENTS

A cable from Hankow reported that the Japanese were attempting to blockade the British and the French Concessions in Tientsin. They have actually started terrorism. This serves another irrefutable proof of the Japanese design to drive the white men out of the Orient.

In the Japanese mind no such thing as the "third Powers" interests ever existed. To them the best thing is for the Western Powers to withdraw en masse from China and let them monopolise it. The present action appears to be the realization of this illusion of theirs.

This affair is the act of the Japanese aggrandizement of the European interests and rights in China. But the matter is not as simple as they think.—(Takung-pao).

BOMBS ON HAIKOW

Two bombs were dropped by a Japanese seaplane on Haikow on the morning of September 19 one on Hsinhua Street blowing up three houses, and the other on the Standard-Vacuum Oil Co. premises demolishing it completely despite the conspicuous display of American flags on the roof. Fortunately there was no casualty.—(Takung-pao).

MADAME CHAO FETED

The women organizations in Canton entertained Madame Chao, the mother of guerrillas, at the Columbus Restaurant on Monday. About seventy persons were present. Mesdames Mai, Chih-ying, Kuo Shun-ching and Tong Pun-u delivering the speeches of welcome.

An interesting report was made by Madame Chao of her experiences in organizing guerrilla units in the north-eastern provinces for the past seven years, and vines for the past seven years and encouraged mothers in China to give inspiration to their sons and daughters for the defence of the Fatherland.

The reception concluded with the singing of patriotic songs and slogans. A collection of $300 odd was made for the mobile units.

It is understood that Madame Chao will soon be on the way to the Japanese rear again carrying out many patriotic activities.—(Takung-pao).

GUERRILLAS FEARED

As September 18 is approaching the Japanese authorities in the southern area of Shanghai, as a precautionary measure against guerrilla attacks, have ordered the inhabitants to offer joint security of ten families and not less. Five thousand refugees having failed to get guarantors were driven out. They were seen on Sunday and Monday flocking to the Settlement, via Pootung, intending to enter the refugee camps. The camps being mostly full, they were only able to take refuge along the streets.—(Takung-pao).

With the advent of new rice from Pootung, Kusan and Tsingpu, the price of rice in Shanghai has experienced a fall. Number one rice dropped to $13.20, number two to $12.80, and number three to $12.40. All are below $14 marking, a difference of $2 per picul as compared with the highest price.—(Takung-pao).

CHOLERA IN SWATOW

As the cholera epidemic in Swatow has decreased considerably the Chief of Police, Mr. Wu Kung-hien, has petitioned to the Municipality to be forwarded to the Provincial Government asking for the abolition of the Hong Kong authorities of the restriction of passengers from Swatow to Hong Kong.—(Takung-pao).

MAINTENANCE CASE IN KOWLOON COURTPERSISTENT CRUELTY PROVED:
W.H.E. TIPPETT ORDERED BY BENCH TO PAY $120 MONTHLY

A monthly maintenance allowance of $120 was awarded by Mr. Barnett, at the Kowloon Court yesterday, to Mrs. Alexandra Tippet (formerly Alexandra Tereschenko), this allowance to be paid to her through the Court by her husband, William Henry Esmond Tippet, of Burns, Philp and Co., Sydney, a complaint against whom, filed by Mrs. Tippet, of persistent cruelty was adjudged proved.

Hearing of a complaint against Tippet of wilful failure to maintain, also brought against him by his wife, was adjourned sine die. The last witness, called yesterday, was Mr. Ambrose Corrigan, of 2, Abermore Court, Superintendent Engineer, Burns, Philp and Co., Sydney.

Witness said that Tippet left Sydney for Hong Kong on February 19 of this year as Third Engineer of the s.s. Mamatu, at a salary of $20 (Australian) per month.

He arrived in Hong Kong on March 12. Here, in addition to his salary, he received a victualling allowance of Hong Kong $225 monthly.

GIRL ENTICED

Sold To Brothel

In Kongmoon

YOUNG MAN FACES
SERIOUS CHARGE

Charged with enticing a girl, Wong Chuen, 16, from the Colony for the purpose of selling her to a brothel at Kongmoon, Tang Kwan, 18, appeared before Mr. MacLachlan at the Kowloon Court yesterday. Four witnesses were heard—the girl, her mother, and two police constables.

Tang is being defended by Mr. F. E. Nash.

Wong Chuen, who alleged that Tang had sold her to a house of ill-fame at Kongmoon, said that she first met defendant in January of last year. On April 19 she had wished to go back to the country. She told her mother of her wishes. The mother was unable to go. The next day witness met defendant, accompanied by two girls in Shanghai Street. He intimated that he was leaving for Macao on the following day, and asked witness if she would like to travel with him. Witness assented.

At Macao defendant brought another man to see her. He told her that she would go to Macao with him. On her refusing, defendant threatened to kill her.

Finally she assented to go to Kongmoon. There she was sold to a brothel for $150. This money she saw paid to the "other man" Wong Lo-kat.

Two months later witness wrote a letter to her mother. A relative, accompanied by a detective, came to Kongmoon to claim her.

JAPANESE WAR
ON CULTUREDestruction Of Institutions

Canton, Sept. 13.
At least 63 educational and cultural institutions in Canton have been partially or completely damaged by Japanese planes as a result of their indiscriminate bombings since the start of hostilities, according to the local Social Affairs Bureau.

The damaged institutions include the Lingnan and Chungshan Universities and the latter's middle schools, four public middle schools, eight Chinese-managed private middle schools, 20 public primary schools, six Chinese-managed private primary schools, six foreign-managed private primary schools, four mass education institutes and two churches.—(Central News).

PATRIOTIC SALES

Since the Macao Relief Committee issued circulars asking the merchants to carry out patriotic sales, responses have been steadily received. On Monday another letter in response to the appeal was received from the native goods sellers. It has been agreed that they are to hold their patriotic sale campaign from September 22 to 24.—(Takung-pao).

At the end of March, Tippet had drawn $145 for victualling allowance. Witness received certain information as to the money having been spent on clothes. On enquiry, Tippet admitted this.

TO PAY DEBTS

Tippet was told that in the future the victualling allowance would be paid directly by the Company to his creditors, no cash for the purpose of paying these creditors to be allowed him.

Later Tippet asked that the Company would pay all his debts for him, rather than that he would receive his monthly salary.

As Tippet had been reported absent from his work, he was, on or about April 27, told to turn up for work or, alternatively, to resign.

Defendant did not appear for work, ringing up witness on about May 2 or 3 and stating his wish to sail for Australia by the Neptuna.

His salary was later used to liquidate some of his debts.

"BEHAVED AS ROGUE"

His Worship—Did you form any opinion about Mr. Tippet's behaviour, apart from his work?

Witness—Yes. My considered opinion is that he behaved as a rogue. Apart from hearsay, I have no personal knowledge of it. Tippet's passage to Australia was paid by the firm.

The first six witnesses were the police officer who had served the summons on Tippet, Mrs. Tippet, the Rev. H. D. Essenthal, of St. Andrew's Vicarage, who had told of Tippet's approaching him for material aid and for advice in his marital troubles; and three other witnesses who had told of hearing Tippet threaten to kill his wife.

STAUNCH CHINESE RESISTANCE AT HSIKULING

Alleged Use Of Poison Gas By Invaders

JAPANESE SUFFER OVER THOUSAND CASUALTIES

Tehan, Kiangsi, September 13. Despite concentrated land, naval and aerial bombardment and the alleged use of poison gas, the Japanese failed yesterday to dislodge the Chinese at Hsikuling, a strategic hill commanding the highway from Singze to Tehan.

The timely arrival of Chinese reinforcements narrowly averted the fall of the hill in the morning when the Japanese succeeded in wiping out 200 Chinese troops and breaking through the Chinese first line of defence by the alleged use of poison gas.

After repeated attempts to dislodge the Chinese during the last few days had ended in failure, the Japanese made a fresh assault yesterday morning. For one hour Japanese planes and land and naval guns subjected the Chinese positions to terrific bombardment. The Chinese defence works crumbled in succession under the heavy deluge of bombs and shells.

Japanese infantrymen then began to charge the Chinese line in three columns under smoke screens and allegedly with poison gas. Two hundred Chinese soldiers on the first line were affected. But the Chinese troops on the second line stubbornly held their ground until reinforcements arrived. In a counter-attack the Chinese drove back the invaders and recovered the ground lost at noon.

At 1.30 p.m. the Japanese made another attack. Bringing their heavy artillery into action, the Chinese killed large numbers of the invaders, and once again repelled the onslaught.

Japanese losses as a result of the day's bitter fighting are estimated at over 1,000 men.—(Central News).

Guarding Wuhan Defence Areas

Hankow, Sept. 13. All residents, foreign or Chinese, are forbidden to visit the defence areas in Wuchang, Hanyang and Hankow, or to photograph, sketch, survey or describe the nature of the defence works built, according to a notice issued by the Wuhan Garrison Headquarters today.

A similar notice, it is learned, has been dispatched by the Hankow Municipal Government to the various foreign Consuls here so that their respective nationals may be accordingly informed. Unless with express permission, it is also stated, no new structures can be erected in the vicinity of the various defence areas.—(Central News).

SHANGHAI'S WAR REFUGEES

Hankow, Sept. 13. According to a Shanghai despatch, the Health Department of the Shanghai Municipal Council in its latest return reveals that there are 114 refugee camps in the International Settlement, with a total number of 63,932 inmates. This number does not include refugees in the French Concession or the famous Jacquinot Zone.—(Central News).

stray bullet in the throat and so seriously injured that he died shortly after.

The man who fired the shots has not yet been discovered.—(Transocean).

CZECH KILLED

Prague, Sept. 13. Two Czechs were wounded, one fatally, near Carlsbad.

There were very serious incidents in other towns where the authorities asked for military aid which was refused. Eventually the State police restored order.—(Reuter).

TOLD TO PROVOKE ATTACKS Prague, Sept. 13.

Owing to demonstrations and riots in different parts of the country the Czech Government has decided to proclaim a state of emergency in five districts. It is reported that the death-roll in the incidents between Czechs and Sudetens last night was six.

The Sudetens attempted to seize post offices and police headquarters in a number of towns.

The authorities announce the seizure of a circular issued to secret service men calling them to do their utmost to provoke attacks on State officers. All Sudetens with arms should, if possible, seize buildings and cut communications with the central authorities.

Major Sutton-Pratt, British observer attached to the British Legation in Prague, is proceeding to Eger, Carlsbad, to inquire into reports of disturbances.

A special meeting of the Inner Cabinet was held this morning. In the afternoon the Czech Premier, Dr. Hozda, is meeting Sudeten Deputies to discuss the general situation.—(Reuter Bulletin).

CZECH PRESS AND SPEECH OF FUEHRER

Door Not Closed To Negotiations

Prague, Sept. 13. Chancellor Hitler's speech is naturally the outstanding feature in the Czech press this morning. Under headings such as "Threats to Czechoslovakia," "Attacks on President Benes," "Violent attack on England," "Our defensive measures of May 21 still sore point," the widely read paper Narodny Politic which is the only paper to comment editorially on the speech thus far says that diplomatic circles judge the speech calmly.

These circles, according to the paper, see in the speech an oratorical climax of the Nuremberg Congress but consider that despite the menaces uttered by the speaker, the speech does not close the door to further negotiations between the Sudeten German Party and the Czechoslovak Government.

The paper does on to say that the Government must remain firm and insist on the respect of law and order so as to ensure a solid foundation for future negotiations. Other papers so far indicate their viewpoint only in headlines and refrain from editorial comments.—(Transocean).

SECRET ORDERS TO FRENCHMEN IN SHANGHAI

Hankow, Sept. 13. A Shanghai message states that 1,500 French reservists in that city have received secret orders from their home government to be ready to leave at short notice in the event of an aggravation of the European crisis.—(Central News).

YUNNAN-HANOI-HONG KONG AIR SERVICE

Kunming, Sept. 13. Arrangements are being made by the Eurasia Aviation Corporation and Air France for a Yunnan-Hanoi-Hong Kong air mail and passenger service, according to Chinese reports.

A Eurasia plane will leave Kunming at 6.30 a.m. every Wednesday and Friday for Hanoi where passengers and mail will be transferred to an Air France machine flying direct to Hong Kong.

Passengers and mail from Hong Kong to Yunnan will be first brought to Hanoi by Air France and then transported to Kunming by Eurasia.—(Reuter).

FORCEFUL OCCUPATION OF CHINESE CEMETERY

Japanese Plans For Air Field

Peiping, Sept. 13. Great indignation and resentment has been aroused by the forceful Japanese occupation of a Chinese cemetery at the western outskirts of Peiping where the Japanese military authorities are going to construct a military flying field.

Over 500 Chinese tombs had been laid there for decades and these are now being taken away to make place for the flying field. The relatives and descendants of the dead are looking on helplessly with restrained anger and hatred.

To pacify the Chinese feeling, the Japanese made a ditch and buried all the remains in it and set up a stone tablet bearing the inscription "Tomb of the Public."

The Japanese gesture turned out to be in vain and a large number of the descendants are throwing in their lot with the guerrillas to avenge their hatred.—(International).

ROTARY TIFFIN SPEECH BY DR. LI SHU-FAN

destination six hours later in darkness, covering a distance of 208 kilometres (1 kilometre equals to 5/8 of a mile).

I must say I was deeply impressed with the beauty of Dalat. I cannot imagine anyone having once seen it will not have the desire to visit it again. Dalat is situated on the Langbian Plateau, 100 kilometres wide by 200 kilometres long, 5,000 feet above sea-level. Its scenic beauty, its restfulness and its health-giving qualities are unparalleled. Although it is the summer resort of the Governor-General of Indo-China and his staff, they have really gone there to work rather than to rest, preferring Dalat to the heat below. At the time of my visit, the Emperor of Annam was there for a week's hunt. I understand he was recently educated in France and is a very keen sportsman.

During my stay, the average temperature was 72 degrees Fahrenheit, and people were in their winter clothing. I had to sleep with two blankets, and a hot bath in the morning was one of the most enjoyable things. Certainly there was no need to work up an appetite. There are plenty of recreations to be had such as, tennis, golf, hunting, riding, hiking and swimming. If you can, in that cool air.

SPLENDIDLY MANAGED

Dalat is just as popular in winter as in the summer. The Langbian Hotel in which we were registered, was modern and splendidly managed. The cuisine was excellent. Hotel charges were exceedingly reasonable, characteristic of the hotels in Indo-China. I was rather surprised to meet so many Hong Kong residents in Dalat, which appeared to me that the Hong Kongites must have suddenly discovered a hidden paradise.

There is an excellent Pasteur's Institute at Dalat under the able directorship of Dr. Morin. At the time of my call, the staff was busily engaged in manufacturing anti-cholera vaccine, of which one million doses were ordered by the League of Nations for dispatch to China.

On our way back to Saigon we were better able to appreciate the rare beauty of the country. We travelled through a vast expanse of the jungle, intermingled here and there with rubber, coffee or tea plantation.

After having rested the night in Saigon, we left the following morning for Ankor. No one visiting Indo-China can afford to miss Ankor. It is an eight-hours trip by motor. About midway, is Phnom Penh, the new capital of Cambodia, where we visited a number of interesting places, including the Emperors' palaces and the famous museum.

MAIN ASSET

Along this route lies a vast expanse of rice-fields which represent the main asset of the country. I must say nature has been extremely kind to Indo-China. Because of its tropical sun and rain, the people are blessed with three crops of rice a year. Because of the comparative mildness of typhoons, trees were grown to a great girth, while plantations and jungles remain practically unmolested. This in essence is the secret of wealth of Indo-China.

On each side of the Mekong River which we crossed by towboat, limitless paddy-fields were seen stretched to the horizon. On reaching Ankor, we were comfortably put up at the leading hotel.

Here the speaker went into a detailed reference of the history of Ankor. Dr. Li continued:— One evening, almost mid-night, a Camodian dance was staged for our benefit within the Ankor Vat. The music, though weird, was melodious and enchanting. The scene was lit up by numerous torches held by the natives. The play was thus re-enacted on the same stage after almost a thousand years. It was most impressive.

BIG GAME HUNTING

Before I conclude, perhaps you may be interested to hear of something about big game hunting in Indo-China. The country still abounds with a variety of big game, such as tigers, elephants, leopards, bantangs, saurs, bears. (Continued on Back Page)

RUINED KWANGTSI NOW A CITY OF THE DEAD

Hankow, September 13. It is stated here that although the Kiangtsi battle is still raging, the crucial stage is over. On Thursday, the Japanese actually pushed beyond Kwangtsi and reached Chaling, but there the Shantung and Kwangsi defenders, realizing that once the invaders crossed Chaling they would be able to use mechanised units for a push westward along the highway and the north bank of the river towards Hankow, drove the Japanese back after a bitter day-long battle.

Concerning the fate of Kwangtsi, Chinese sources declare that it is now a city of the dead, belonging neither to the Japanese nor to the Chinese.

Kwangtsi, contrary to press reports, is said to have no city wall. It is now a mass of ruins as the result of Japanese bombing and artillery fire.

The opposing forces are stated to be facing each other in the hills around Kwangtsi.

Since all the villages in the vicinity of the battlefield have been destroyed by bombing, the Chinese groups at the front are finding food scarce and are subsisting on melons.

A Chinese military spokesman claims that about 2000 Japanese troops are at present surrounded in the vicinity of Kwangtsi.

The Chinese, he said, are holding positions in the hills north and west of the razed town. The area to the south is flooded, while Chinese detachments are also holding Shuangchanyi, on the highway between Kwangtsi and Huangmei.

The Japanese at Huangmei are desperately fighting their way westward in an attempt to relieve the Japanese column that has been surrounded.—(Reuter).

NO RECONSTRUCTION OF FRENCH CABINET

Paris, Sept. 13. Competent circles here declare that there is no foundation in the rumour that a reconstruction of the French Cabinet is imminent as stated in the Paris Solr.—(Transocean).

HITLER'S SPEECH HAS LEFT WORLD IN DOUBT

Times And Nonsense

London, September 13. Herr Hitler's speech has left the world in doubt regarding his intentions. This is the general view held by morning papers, most of which anticipate a period of continued anxiety regarding the peace of Europe.

The Times in an editorial states that the object of the speech was clearly to put the onus of a settlement on Czechoslovakia's Government.

Herr Hitler spoke of "seven million Czechs torturing three and a half million Germans," an absurd perversion of the truth which can hardly have deceived his own docile and devoted audience. He even explained that there was a desire to exterminate them.

"It is lamentable indeed that the head of a great country like Germany should talk such nonsense. Except for a single sentence about self-determination, the speech of the chief of the German State was just another of those speeches which are delivered almost nightly at Nazi gatherings, and it really leaves the vital problem of Central Europe very much where it was before he spoke."

RESPITE WELCOMED The Daily Herald says that while the whole world will welcome the respite which the absence of any further demand gives it, it would be foolish to ignore the danger inherent in Herr Hitler's words.

The News Chronicle says that the speech must leave the democratic Powers in no false mood of optimism. For relieving the crisis it must deepen the anxiety. France, Britain and Russia must take all precautions and act in the closest concert if peace is to be preserved.—(Reuter).

EXCHANGE MARKET

Adopt Cautious Attitude

London, Sept. 13.

Consensus of opinion in city circles is that Hitler's speech has done little or nothing to relieve the prevailing international political tension. Consequently operators on all markets continue to adopt a most cautious attitude.

Well-informed circles point out that pending clarification of the outlook any resumption of normal market activity, both on the stock exchange and commodities, is virtually impossible.

The lack of any degree of unanimity in business circles interpretation of current events was reflected at today's dealings at the fixing of the London gold price. Only 208 bars, valued at £801,000 were dealt in all of which were supplied by continental resales while arbitrageurs, who yesterday morning were reluctant to operate, today purchased more freely than leaving only a negligible amount of gold to be absorbed by the authorities.—(Reuter).

MEDICAL WORK IN CHINA WAR ZONES

Hankow Methodist Hospital and was in that city during the intensive Japanese bombings towards the end of August.

"It was pretty awful," Dr. Tremewan said, "that particular aerial attack was spread over four days during which the killed and injured must have numbered thousands. There was no electric light or water in the Chinese city for two weeks after that, so extensive was the damage done. The price of candles went up 100 per cent in two days. Medical work could only be done under the most difficult of conditions."

HIGH MORALE The morale at Hankow, according to Dr. Tremewan, was very good. Dr. Gray added that though they had no direct contact with military or civil officials, their own opinion, formed by personal observations, and that of war correspondents in the city, is that those of the population that are left are definitely optimistic, holding that if the city did fall at all it would be a matter of months.

FRIDAY THE 13TH A significant revelation was made by Dr. Tremewan when he told our representative that three missions in Changchow, which had been visited by Madame Chiang Kai-shek, accompanied by Colonel Wong, were intensively bombed the next day. The places were the Catholic Mission, the Methodist Mission and the Baptist Mission Hospital. The date was, strangely enough, Friday, May 13.

Asked about the spirit of China's defenders, both doctors were full of their praise. The wounded were now much better looked after than at the beginning of the war but nevertheless it was not uncommon for the men to have to bear terrible hardships. "For instance, the fall of Haichow at the beginning of June, we had soldiers walking past our hospital (in Changchow)," Dr. Gray said. "For all that the men's spirits are very good and many of the men in hospital are full of the utmost eagerness to get back to the front to get their own back!"

INDIAN MEDICAL UNIT Questioned about the probable degree of usefulness of the Indian Medical Unit who are due here this morning on their way to the interior, Dr. Gray said he could offer no comment on this. His own opinion was that the language difficulty was not so much a handicap to doctors as it would be to nurses. Both doctors wished the Unit the best of luck and asserted that their arrival was eagerly awaited by the Chinese at the front.

LORD STANLEY IMPROVES

Dominions Office Under Attack

London, Sept. 13. A Winnipeg message states that the condition of Lord Stanley, Dominions Secretary, continues to show improvement and that he hopes to sail for England from Montreal on September 24.—(British Wireless).

ABOLITION OF D.O. During Lord Stanley's absence, the Prime Minister has been bearing the full brunt of the Empire attack on the Dominions Office.

Most Empire statesmen are clamouring for abolition of the D.O. and for direct contact with the Foreign Office. The Premier is in favour of maintaining Lord Stanley's department, but at the same time he is anxious not to offend the Dominions.

He has in mind a compromise plan by which there would be direct contact with the F.O. on matters of foreign policy. Regarding purely Empire affairs, approach would still be made through the D.O.

EXASPERATING For a long time Australia, in particular, has been chafing under the system whereby every great and small communication with the United Kingdom has had to pass through the Dominions Office. Matters came to a crisis during the Abdication crisis, when the Commonwealth let its voice be heard in no uncertain fashion.

That Premier "Joe" Lyons could not speak direct to Mr. Stanley Baldwin, but only through his monthpiece, (then Malcolm MacDonald) was exasperating to the Federal Premier.

offer no comment on this. His own opinion was that the language difficulty was not so much a handicap to doctors as it would be to nurses. Both doctors wished the Unit the best of luck and asserted that their arrival was eagerly awaited by the Chinese at the front.

Dr. Gray and Tremewan are staying in the Colony for three weeks, after which they will return to New Zealand, their places at the front having been taken (after the usual six months' term) by two other doctors. Dr. Hanky is from Guy's Hospital, London, and it is understood he also will not be remaining in Hong Kong very long.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL

Prospects Of New Season

The League clubs were engaged recently in the series of games which were arranged in connexion with the Jubilee Fund, and on the last Saturday in August the season opened officially with a full list of League matches. Most of the amateur clubs were also in action, says The Times.

Competition in the various divisions of the League becomes keener as the years go by, and these early matches are just as important as those which attract so much attention after the League tables have been appearing for many months.

Most teams will have played six matches by the middle of this month, and every point will be fought for with the utmost keenness.

A glance at the final figures of last season shows how little there is to choose between the clubs.

Arsenal won the Championship for the fifth time, but their total of 52 points was, with one exception, the lowest total to win the Championship since the First Division was increased to 22 clubs after the War. Sheffield Wednesday won with 52 points in 1928-29.

Aston Villa headed the Second Division with 57 points, but Manchester United's 53 points, which were good enough to give them second place last year, would have been good enough in only two of the previous 13 years.

Again, Millwall won the Southern section with 56 points, which is the lowest winning total since the Third Division was founded in 1920-21, with the exception of Charlton Athletic's 54 in 1928-29, and Tranmere Rovers' 56 was the lowest ever to win the Northern section since that competition has had 22 teams.

THE RISE OF IPSWICH
There are some alterations this season in the constitution of the two sections of the Third Division. As the two clubs relegated from the Second Division, Barnsley and Stockport County, are both Northern, Port Vale have been transferred again to the Southern section.

Gillingham, one of the two bottom clubs, failed in their application for re-election and their place has been given to Ipswich Town. The rise of Ipswich has been remarkable.

The professional club was founded two years ago, and in its first season, won the Southern League championship; last season the team finished third, but the support was always so good that their successful application for admission to the Third Division was no surprise.

The team has been strengthened during the summer months, the new players including Pillingham, the Birmingham centre-half, Hutchison, from Chelsea, Burns, who kept goal for Preston North End in the Cup Final of 1937, and Rimmer, the Sheffield Wednesday outside left.

NOTABLE TRANSFERS
During the summer several notable players transferred from one club to another, the outstanding one being Jones, the inside forward for whom Arsenal are reputed to have given Wolverhampton Wanderers some £13,000. He will be in the side to meet Portsmouth at Highbury but in the circumstances it is hardly to be expected that he will immediately find his true form.

Otherwise the Arsenal team looks quite familiar. Wolverhampton have transferred so many other players to various clubs during the close season that it is difficult to keep pace with them. They are satisfied, apparently.

Woolley's Farewell Innings

Recently Frank Woolley played his farewell innings on the St. Lawrence ground at Canterbury—the most famous in Kent—by hitting 81 runs in an hour off the Australians' bowling.

All-out for 108 in their first innings, Kent had followed on 37 runs behind the Australians' total. But 4 after 4 flashed from Woolley's bat in the second innings, and his 81 was made out of 109 scored while he was in.

Nine of the remainder were extras—and the other 19 runs were made by Ames and Fagg. After Woolley had dominated the game for an hour Ames, England's wicket-keeper, proved that his fractured finger had completely recovered by making a century in 101 minutes.

Maurice Nichols, the Essex fast bowler who was chosen to play for England in the abandoned Test match at Manchester, became the first player to complete the cricketers' "double"—1,000 runs and 100 wickets in a season.

This is the fourth year in which he has been the first to accomplish the feat, and he did it in the course of an innings of 133 not out against Surrey at Westcliff.

At Scarborough today, Mr. H. D. G. Leveson Gower's XI declared their first innings at 363 for eight wickets in reply to the Australian tourists' total of 306.

W. J. O'Reilly took four wickets for 75 runs.

Going in again, the Australians had not yet scored when stumps were drawn.

E. L. McCormick, the Australian fast bowler, pulled a leg muscle today and may not take further part in the match.—(Reuter).

A. C. I. BOWKER AS CAPTAIN?

BY F. MELA

In connection with the forthcoming cricket Interport with Shanghai, I learn that neither H. Owen Hughes or T. A. Pearce can make the trip.

This will create a problem for the Selection Committee regarding the choice of a captain. Humour has it that A. C. I. Bowker, of the Hong Kong Cricket Club will be asked to lead the side.

WARWICKSHIRE SAVE THE GAME

P. Cranmer's Century

Although Warwickshire followed on 184 behind they had no difficulty in drawing their match with Worcestershire at Dudley recently.

P. Cranmer, the Warwickshire captain, played another grand innings, scoring 104. This was Cranmer's first century of the season, and it included two 6's and 13 4's.

Shortland, who was playing in his second county game, showed further promise while helping Cranmer in a stand of 94. Santall also batted excellently, and hit 12 4's in making 75.

Warwickshire needed 68 to save the follow-on when play was continued, and their outstanding wicket added 33 runs before the innings closed for 296.

Warwickshire, when they went in again, lost Croom with 26 scored, but Santall, who played free cricket, and Buckingham added 65 for the second wicket.

A fifth-wicket partnership between Ord and Shortland produced 41 runs in 30 minutes before Ord was caught at the wicket at 183.

Then Shortland and Cranmer scored easily while adding 94, and Cranmer and Fantham put on 62 for the seventh wicket in 30 minutes.

Angry "Fans" Taunt Test Selectors

The England Test team selectors, who, it might be thought, would be the recipients of congratulatory messages after the crushing defeat of Australia at the Oval, have received shoals of letters—most of them anonymous—criticising the omission of Hutton and Leyland from the fourth Test match at Leeds, where England were beaten.

The selectors resent the implication, as neither of these Yorkshiremen who played leading parts in the fifth Test, was available for selection for the Leeds game owing to injury.

"The selectors do not mind criticism," said Sir Pelham Warner, chairman of the Test Selectors.

"In fact, I like it so long as it is fair and constructive, but in this case it is not."

"I have had lots of letters fired at me from Yorkshire asking why more Yorkshiremen were not included in the Leeds Test. There seems to have been some misconception in regard to the circumstances surrounding this game."

"Ames was not available owing to a broken finger. Hutton had fractured a finger at Lord's a week earlier, and Leyland was hurt in the same match."

On the matter of time-limits Tests Sir Pelham says:—

"I venture to suggest that four days, with a fifth day if necessary, should be sufficient to decide Test matches with Australia."

The market opened with prices unchanged for all deliveries as compared with Saturday's closing quotations.

Early in the morning the market ruled very quiet. Although demand for "actuals" was fair, dealers and speculators preferred to maintain side-line positions, awaiting the fixation of the permissible export-quota for October-December by the I.R.R. Committee's meeting scheduled for today. The fact, that American consumption increased by about 6,000 tons over the July figure, which was more than expected, caused apprehensions of the Committee deciding on a release of 50 to 55 per cent. Such action, it is feared, might put the market on a lower level temporarily.

Later in the session the market encountered easiness on further disquieting European political news. Prices gradually declined by 3/8 cent for all deliveries on profit-taking and selling, mainly for speculative accounts.

During the last trading hour the market became very weak on further persistent selling pressure, prices sharply declining by 1/2 cent due to scarcity of buyers. Closing tone was weak.

Shipments of Estate and Native Rubber from the Dutch East Indies during August amounted to 23,631 tons as against 35,651 tons for July, whilst Exporters' Stocks of Native Rubber on August 31 totalled 14,000 tons as against 12,598 tons at the end of July.

Market firm, following the quota announcement. Good American enquiry and large turnover.

Rubber stocks held in the United Kingdom showed a decrease of 192 tons for the week ending September 12, 1938.

NEW YORK COTTON

The market was fairly active throughout, although most operators tended to keep to the side-lines, awaiting developments in the European political situation. Prices early went higher on Trade and Bombay buying, but the volume of demand was negligible and the market reacted on hedge-selling. Finally, prices again rallied on better buying by Wall Street and spot-house.

NEW YORK RUBBER

With the rubber quota unchanged at 45 per cent, and a continued sharp reduction indicated in stocks of the raw material

Instrument
Landing
To Be Tested

In October the Trans-continental air lines of America, entering Los Angeles, California at Burbank, the aerodrome of said city, will give instrument landing its big test.

Pioneered by the United Airlines, but lately aided by TWA, this Bendix engineered device has proved 100 per cent accurate in more than 1000 spot landings at Oakland, California. Five key fields throughout the United States will get the apparatus. It's going to end-air lines hops—the mathematical worry of easing down into a port through low cellings. It is, they believe, foolproof.

First to receive the instrument landing radio equipment was Oakland; Burbank is second;
 Denver, Cleveland, and Newark will follow.

Back in 1928, aeronauts tinkered with the notion of infallible blind landings. Then it was overloaded with gadgetry.

Now, it's merely a matter of a cockpit dial registering horizontal and vertical action, radio markers at known dis-

ROTARY TIFFIN ADDRESS

deer, etc. Big game hunting in Indo-China is second only to Africa, hence it attracted not a few big game hunters from America and Europe. Probably I was the first from China.

To be successful, one needs much time and proper organization. With only thirteen days at my disposal, three days were spent in shopping including provisioning, arranging with the Shooting Agency, and waiting for the arrival of the professional guide from up country, to whom we wired.

Of the ten remaining days, one was spent in going and one in returning. I had, therefore, only eight clear days in which to hunt, during which time it was my intention to bag a tiger or an elephant. However, the Shooting Agency maintained that I need to put in three weeks for that. But as I had a French professional guide with thirty-two years' experience, I decided to chance it.

FAMOUS MANDARIN ROAD

On the fourth morning of suspense, we finally left Saigon, motoring north-eastwards by way of the famous Mandarin Road. After a journey of eight hours we reached Dong Mel, our destination, near which is the hunting lodge. The lodge is a small bungalow built on the edge of a lovely river. It looked very charming and inviting. The guide spoke excellent English and was an exceedingly humorous companion. To top it all, in the midst of that heat, we had a refrigerator operated by kerosene.

The next morning, we started off before daybreak, with a view to taking a general survey of the ground, which consisted of low foot-hills on the East of the Dalat mountains. Soon we spotted a herd of five bantangs dashing across an opening in the wood, about 100 yards off. In that space of seconds, no shooting was attempted, especially when we did not want to disturb the game unnecessarily.

In the course of our survey, we saw quite a lot of elephant and tiger foot-prints.

In the evening on returning to camp, we received a report that elephants visited and destroyed the neighbouring plantation the previous night. It was a plantation of cactus used for the manufacture of ropes. Early next morning we inspected the plantation which was partly eaten. Since then, we were continually tracking the elephants until the afternoon of the fourth day, when we suddenly heard the crackling of branches at a distance.

CREPT UP CAREFULLY

Suspecting they were elephants, we crept up carefully on the lea side of the wind, until we came within 50 yards; we saw it was a herd of five elephants, but before I started to shoot, I again heard the crackling of branches but in another direction. Being convinced there was another herd nearby, we quietly went over to ascertain. Sure enough, there was another herd of five.

As the leader was the biggest of the two herds, I crept up to about 40 yards range. He was still eating and busily flapping his ears, and as he was facing me three-quarter way, I realised it was impossible to place my shot on the classical line, which joins the eye and the ear.

Under the circumstance I fired at a point some few inches above the eye. He went down with such a tremendous roar that we thought the earth shook. In a moment, he was struggling to get up. But before he attempted to run, I rushed up to within 30 yards of him, and fired two more shots at his head, finally dispatching him.

During this time, the rest of the herd having seen me, made a charge in my direction. Very luckily, my guide quickly fired two shots in the air, thus effectively turning and dispersing them. In that moment of excitement, I did not know that my gun was jammed, as the fourth cartridge got mysteriously caught in the chamber.

The most interesting question is, why did the elephant get up again after he was shot in the brain? I can only conjecture that it is perhaps the .95 mm. hard-nosed bullet I used was too small for an elephant of approximately 3,000 pounds, which we thought he weighed. A second reason is perhaps that, that part of the skull bone which the bullet hit, was probably more than two

IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS IN FARES AND FREIGHT RATES OF IMPERIAL AIRWAYS' ROUTES TO HONG KONG WILL OPERATE FROM OCTOBER 1

The most important reductions in fares and freight rates on the Imperial Airways' routes to India, Malaya, Australia and Hong Kong are announced by Imperial Airways. They will operate from October 1.

The reductions affect fares to destinations east of Karachi, but fares from all stations west of Karachi to stations affected are adjusted roughly in proportion.

For example, the present London-Singapore single fare, £156, is £26-20 per cent—above the new rate. While it has not been found possible to reduce the London-Rome or the London-Alexandria fares, the proportionate reduction reduces the Rome-Singapore fare by £27, and the Alexandria-Singapore fare by £28.

Other reductions, governed by operational and other factors, vary. The return, London-Australia fare is down £14 to £274. The single Sydney-London is down £20 (Australian) to £180 (Australian).

FREIGHT RATES

Simultaneously there has been a substantial scaling down in rates also.

inches thick, and that the bullet only had the effect of momentarily stunning him. As I expect to receive the skull soon, I hope to be able to verify these most interesting and debatable points.

TIGER HUNTING

As for tiger hunting, all I can say is, that on the seventh day of my hunt, I spent fourteen hours waiting for a tiger on a small platform built on a tree, known as a boma. A dead ox was used as bait, which is considered the best. However, I waited in vain throughout the night and the early morning. To our surprise, we subsequently found the foot-prints of two tigers, which came within 100 yards of the boma. This is still a mystery to me, and I cannot offer a word of explanation.

The most amusing incident was revealed to me when the guide came to the boma in the morning. He took me to the camping place where he was encamped with three natives, and demonstrated to me the foot-prints of a big tiger, which came within three yards of where they slept, the night before, despite the fact that they had two camp-fires burning with the object of scaring off wild animals. Strange to say, they were entirely unaware of the tiger. Their camp was about one and a half miles away from the boma where I was posted.
